Building Permits Show Boom Continuing At Steady Pace

St. Augustine's To Graduate 33 Pupils

Thirty-three smiling graduates will receive diplomas Sunday afternoon as traditional commencement exercises are held in St. Augustine's church.

The Rev. Patrick J. Campbell, O.S.A., pastor of the church, will confer diplomas and awards at 2:30. There will be a reception. (Continued on Page 17)

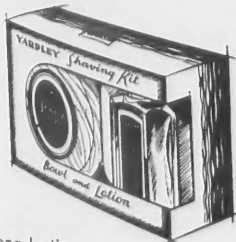

Andover's building boom continued during May.

Building Inspector Ralph W. Coleman issued new construction permits totalling $426,200 during the month. The estimated value of additions and alterations was $54,570. Thus, total permits were valued at $480,770.

Robert S. Leathers of Newton received permission to construct five homes on Rattlesnake Hill rd., a sub-division which was recorded in 1921 but which does not now meet Zone B zoning requirements as established by the town. However, the planning board has said it has no jurisdiction over the development now because of a state law loophole. (Continued on Page Six)

Pollution Of Clark Brook Charged By Resident In Letter To Health Head

Claims Brook Is "Open Cesspool" During Summer

Is Clark brook in Ballardvale pure or polluted?

Mrs. Wendell R. Hopkins, 12 Chester st., charges that the brook, either when backed up because the overflow is "clogged with debris" or "when it cannot flow" in the dry summer days, "is then one large, uncovered cesspool."

Dr. William V. Emmons, chairman of the board of health, declares "To my knowledge, there's nothing contaminated in the brook now."

Serious Complaint

Mrs. Hopkins, a resident there since mid-summer, 1954, has lodged a formal complaint about conditions in the area. She told Dr. Emmons, in a two-page letter, that some cesspools in the neighborhood are said to be either uncovered or poorly covered; that (Continued on Page 16)

What Our Readers Say—

SEWAGE CONDITION

Editor of The Townsman:

I hope that the Townsman can help many of us who are so worried about the foul sewage conditions existing in Ballardvale and other parts of Andover.

In some cases these threatening situations exist where there is a public sewage system available!

Can't we help some people to understand why it is so important to impell those who have dangerous conditions to tie in immediately, before the hot summer months; the fly and insect season, is upon us?

I am certain that a few well-aimed articles, by some experts, explaining what can happen when sewage is allowed to stand, without covering, would send most folks into immediate action, either concerning their own unhealthy situations, or concerning those of their neighbors! What about polio, dysentery, typhoid, paratyphoid, cholera, and other filth diseases & as well as the high incidence of flu and gripe that this area repeatedly suffers?

Consideration for one's neighbors ceases to be any kind of consideration if it is at the expense of the health of the rest of our community.

We wouldn't let our children play in a sewer and yet, how much better are some of the areas of our town where they do play? I mean, specifically, Clarks brook in Ballardvale. What is the difference between that and an open cess-pool during the time of year when it is stagnant! Think of the insects that breed in that place alone and you should see the numbers of children who play in and around the brook with, or without, their parent's approval! I also mean areas where private cesspools are inadequately covered so that pets and other animals can fall in them and be drowned! I also mean the areas where open latrines are still in use!

Let's not hush-hush these things any longer! A lot of letters written to our board of public health might do a great deal to speed up action that seems so slow in starting.

Then, too all folks should remember that there are no safe places within an area in which the wind can blow and the flies and mosquitoes can travel. The insects are not partial as to whose screen door they land on, or whose kitchen they can fly or crawl into. Nor do they care who they bite! The problem concerns all of us who live in this community.

For goodness sakes let's enlighten our friends and neighbors!

Should Plug Zoning Loophole

The planning board recently exposed a situation under which zoning regulations of the town may be ignored by some sub-division owners.

The matter came about when a Newton man asked the board for advice concerning a sub-division bounded by Alderbrook rd., Sunset Rock rd., Rattlesnake Hill rd. and Main st.

A loophole in the state zoning law allows that man to develop the property in direct violation of present Andover zoning requirements, for that area, which is "Zone B" on the town maps.

It seems that he purchased property for which a plan was made and recorded in 1921.

Because that date preceded the present zoning law, current regulations can't be enforced. He must maintain the proposed street layout to be sure, but frontage and lot size limitations may not be imposed.

It is distinctly unfair to other property owners, who must live up to the letter of the law, to allow this man to develop the property without much restriction.

He plans, for instance, to combine present 50-foot frontage lots so that some would measure 100 feet and others might reach the 150 feet required for that area under Zone B restrictions. The lots will not, necessarily, however, include the 30,000 square feet listed as a minimum under the present law for that zone.

According to the planning board, only the board of health or the board of public works can now prevent this land from being developed outside zoning requirements.

The health board can, if it finds cause, refuse a permit on the grounds that there will not be enough area for a septic tank and drainage field.

If there is any problem concerning the roads, the board of public works can step into the picture.

We feel that the planning board should take immediate steps toward having the state law amended to prevent any further difficulties.

Our state representatives should be asked to enter the picture, to file whatever legislation is necessary to plug up this loophole before others take advantage of it.

The zoning requirements are based on sound common-sense and should not be subverted because of a state law which failed to foresee the present situation.

Town Engineer W. O. Petersen Leaves Service

Public Works Engineer Warren O. Petersen will leave municipal service July 1 to accept another position.

His letter of resignation to the board of public works was accepted with regret Monday night.

In the letter, Mr. Petersen explained that the new position is one which will further his professional experience and offers an opportunity for personal advancement.

"Most regrettable" was the immediate comment from Board Chairman Sidney P. White. He spoke highly of Mr. Petersen's work in the town as did other members of the board.

Mr. Petersen, who will work for a large engineering firm in Boston, plans to maintain his home here. He came to Andover in 1949 and is married to an Andover woman, the former Mary C. Tukey.

He is a native of Worcester and a graduate of Northeastern university. He is a registered engineer both in Massachusetts and in New York.

Lauds Engineer

The planning board, for which Mr. Petersen has done considerable work, has also expressed its regret that he will sever the relationship. The board went on record in appreciation of his work during the past years.

"We have been very happy with the service and courtesy which you have rendered not only to the board but to the town as a whole not only courtesy but efficiency," declared Mr. White.

"We certainly have been able to rely on you and your judgment has been a great guiding influence," he added.

One of the problems facing board members now is the sudden depletion of their working force. Supt. Edward Lawson is currently doing his own work and that of the late William Kyle. There is also a vacancy as assistant superintendent in charge of the water department. Both positions will be advertised, by vote of the board.

Will Interview Applicants

The water department position previously was advertised and the board interviewed candidates. They will meet again tomorrow night to interview applicants for the clerk's job in the department office.

No action has been announced regarding steps to fill the engineer's position to be vacated July 1.

CLARK BROOK COMPLAINT RECEIVED BY DR. EMMONS

some drain pipes empty into the brook; that garbage, trash and debris is thrown into the brook and clogs the pipe under Andover st. near the fire station.

She further charged that a cat had fallen into one uncovered cesspool and drowned.

Need Obvious

"All these areas that I have mentioned have the public sewer system available for their use and I cannot understand why they should not be compelled to enter that system immediately," the irate housewife wrote. "Surely the need is obvious, the danger apparent. Must we endure the worry during the hot summer months ag-

Many Have Entered

Dr. Emmons, who promised a speedy reply by mail to Mrs. Hopkins, told the Townsman that home-owners have one year to enter the sewer after it is completed. That date, he indicated, would fall on Jan. 2, 1956.

He further stated that many have entered or have notified the board of public works that they intend to have the necessary contracting work performed.

Appeal to Commissioners

Mrs. Hopkins, obviously angry after what she called an inadequate inspection by Plumbing Inspector Thompson, demanded "Immediate and specific action within five days of the time this letter should reach you," (Dr. Emmons) or a copy of the complaint "will be sent on to the county commissioner in Salem."

Dr. Emmons explained that the county commissioners are the only board that can over-rule a local board of health. That board, he said, can compel other town bodies to take whatever action it deems proper to eliminate a health hazard. It can only be reversed by the commissioners.

Inspected Brook

The health board chairman pointed out that he and a state engineer had walked a long way up the brook about three years ago, after complaints had been received. Two houses had overflow pipes emptying into the brook, he disclosed, "and they have been taken care of."

A complaint by Mrs. Hopkins about a home which does not have indoor facilities is being taken care of, Dr. Emmons said. He explained that the occupants of the house have been requested to install proper plumbing and believes it will be done soon.

Costs Are Steep

One of the problems affecting quick connections to the sewer main, town officials explain, is the cost.

Each home owner must pay all the expenses of having the work done. It includes the pipe, labor, digging the trench from house to sewer pipe, connections and refilling the ditch properly.

Moreover, Dr. Emmons pointed out that many homes in the Clark brook area have plumbing that faces the rear or at best the side of the house. It must be moved so that a pipe can run from the front of the house out to the sewer, he explained. That is an added expense to the property owner, he declared. If an elbow is required underground, a manhole must be built so the elbow can be reached easily, he explained.

Dr. Emmons told the Townsman that the board intends to send out a letter soon, telling all property owners along the newly installed sewer that they may connect their plumbing to it. The letter would also point out the legal obligations to connect within the year's time.

What steps the board may take in answer to the demand made by Mrs. Hopkins for action within five days could not be determined.

Children Play In Area

She had pointed out in her letter that children play in the area around Clark brook and indicated the possible dangers to them if the brook is contaminated. Also mentioned was the smell from the slowly moving stream during the summer.

Mrs. Hopkins also pointed out, in a conversation with a representative of the Townsman, that her husband is preparing to have the sewage connections installed at their home immediately.

The board of public works office said some 35 connections have already been made and two or three more are filed now in the office. The number that remain unconnected can not be determined immediately, it was explained.

Assessment By Town

An added expense item, according to town officials, is the assessment placed against home owners who connect to the sewer. It is based on the cost-per-foot of the sewer installation. In the past, it has varied from $4 a running foot to close to $5. Property owners with a lot of frontage stand to be assessed a fairly large amount, they explain. The exact figure has not yet been established, however.

What's it like to pounds of chicken in

If you ask the Parish church, the it's a whale of a job

As Mrs. Helen plains it, the chicken is the worst part of the "fixin's" of time and work.

She should know. Northey is the woman who has lured the old-fashioned barbeque to West Andover. Many men, women and the Greater Lawrence have come to sample the West Parish ingenuity.

Mrs. Northey takes food — and that's itself. For the two uses up at least chicken, gallons of oil, potato chips and dozens of hot rolls.

West Parish Church Plans Unique Chicken Bar-B-Q For June 18

What's it like to cook up 625 pounds of chicken in a hurry?

If you ask the folks at West Parish church, they'll tell you it's a whale of a job, but worth it.

As Mrs. Helen Northey explains it, the chicken isn't necessarily the worst part of the job. It's the "fixin's" that take a lot of time and work.

She should know, because Mrs. Northey is the woman who introduced the old-fashioned chicken barbeque to West Andover and to many men, women and children in the Greater Lawrence area who have come to sample the product of West Parish ingenuity.

Come June 18, the church is again sponsoring the barbeque out on the Green, with "sittings" at 5:30 and 6:30. Last year, she pioneered the project, deciding that it "was about time we took on a project that would make something besides $5 or $10". Admitting that she heard of the barbeque on the radio, Mrs. Northey points out that the first one took "a lot of doing".

This year, she is co-chairman of the affair with Philip Pray. He looks after the physical set-up of the 48-foot pit, charcoal fires and other details so numerous they'd make a lot of people wince and shy away.

Mrs. Northey takes care of the food — and that's a big order in itself. For the two-sitting affair uses up at least 625 pounds of chicken, gallons of coffee, pickles, potato chips and dozens upon dozens of hot rolls.

The chickens, bought locally, are halved so that each diner will get one and a quarter pounds. It takes six cooks three-quarters of an hour to cook the poultry while helpers continually spray sauce over the birds.

Spray is the right term, for the sauce is pumped out of plain, ordinary garden pumps that are, however, specially maintained for only that purpose.

The church pays a small fee to an out-of-town concern to get the pumps and 10 special racks that fit over the "pit". Each rack holds 30 half-chickens, with resultant capacity of 300 birds. The six cooks spend most of their time turning the fowl over and over so that they cook slowly and evenly. Until, as Mrs. Northey puts it, "When you can pull a leg off, they're done".

The work isn't as back-breaking as it sounds, for the "pits" actually are three feet high and made of cinder blocks. The charcoal fire burns so hot, related Mrs. Northey, that the cooks just have to keep turning the birds. The special racks fit over the "pit", giving a cook a chance to work without bending over continuously.

While that work is going on, Mrs. Northey matter-of-factly related, the women-folks will be making hot rolls in the church kitchen so that they'll be hot when customers are ready for them.

Marching past the pits like a military "chow line", the diners are handed paper plates which they fill up, take on other food at tables lined up beside the pits, and then get their coffee.

For those hungry after the barbeque, there is an ice cream wagon which serves sundaes, Mrs. Northey explained.

"But there isn't a utensil to wash", exclaimed Mrs. Northey, for the chicken is handled best with the fingers and wooden spoons are used. "That saves us a lot of work", she said, pointing out that it would be almost impossible to keep track of silver used out-doors and get it all cleaned up and restored to the church kitchen with the amount of help available.

What happens if it rains?

"Why, it just won't rain, that's all", the ambitious churchwoman replied. "Last year, when anyone mentioned rain, I just told them it couldn't possibly rain — and it didn't. Won't this year, either".

Committee Members

Other members of the barbeque committee include Clayton Northey, Ruth Pray, Leverett Putnam, William Stuart, Bruce Dodd, Ormiston Mitchell, Parker Holden, Fred Kidd, Richard Robertson, John Peatman, Edward Munro, William Dubocq, Fred Tarbox, James Baxter, Bruce Stuart, Richard Hudgins and Glen Peatman.

Herrick Colby and Mrs. Herbert Carter are co-chairmen of the ticket committee.

Betty Peterson is chairman of the food sale committee, assisted by Margaret Bascom, Durl MacRury, Harriet Battles and Dorothy Peatman.

Costs Of New Building Ahead Of 1954 Pace

Andover is growing and growing fast.

That's the only conclusion to be drawn from a look at building permits issued during the last three months and comparing them with the same period last year.

Writing off January and February as months when little is doing construction-wise, a look at the records tells a story of rapid development in the community and an amazing growth over last year in comparable periods.

Over A Million

The total estimated value of building permits issued in the three month period is well over a million dollars — $1,425,195 to be exact.

In 1954, for the same months, only $812,375 worth of permits were issued.

Thus, the town is already $612,820 ahead of last year's spring building boom.

New Construction Value

New construction — houses, for the most part, but with a few garages and one or two other buildings included, is worth $1,168,775 in the three-month period.

Last year, new construction during the same period only reached a $770,300 value. That puts the 1955 total some $398,475 over the preceding year.

And there has been a corresponding increase in additions and alterations. The three-month, 1955 totals are $256,420 compared with only $42,075 in March, April and May of 1954.

The construction figures in both the new category and in alterations and additions show a month to month increase over last year. The estimated value of new buildings has been reported as follows:

March, 1955, $419,900 vs March, 1954, $285,400.

April, 1955, $322,675 vs April, 1954, $239,050.

May, 1955, $426,200 vs May, 1954, $245,850.

Value of alterations and additions, by months, follows:

March, 1955, $25,250 vs March, 1954, $15,950.

April, 1955, $176,600 vs April, 1954, $14,775.

May, 1955, $54,570 vs May, 1954, $11,350.
